An Autumn full of changes!

MW's Editorial Staff is starting again its activity after a summer break that brought many changes and confirmations. The new entries for this season will be: publications of the special insert on Herbert Von Karajan for the months of October, November and December, by Jacopo Simoncini and Rossana Cimorelli; from November on, Roberto Iliano and Luca Sala will take care of a special on Luigi Dallapiccola.

For Ralph Vaughan Williams, we are producing a big project for his 50th death anniversary, by Stefano Naimoli, for a total of ten articles that will go through an analysis of all his symphonies. During the month of October Musicalwords.it will dedicate a space exclusively on the great violinist, Niccolò Paganini. This special insert, in collaboration with the Società dei Concerti of La Spezia, will be spread in three weeks and will end with a evening celebration on Friday, October 31st at 9.00 P.M. in 'Il Nuovo' Movie theatre (Via Colombo - La Spezia). The evening will start with a conference on the Genovese composer, held by Alberto Macrì, followed by the screening of the Movie 'Paganini' by Kinsky, with a presentation by Giordano Giannini.

For the literature section will start an important collaboration with the Italian Philosophy Society (La Spezia), with the publications of GLAVX's abstracts and indexes. For this special collaboration we would like to thanks personally Professor Antonino Postorino. Further articles will also involve young students and scholars write articles on Italian and International Literature topics... all of us will read them with great interest!

We finally invite young artists and art scholars to enrich our Art section for a more permanent collaboration with our Blog.
